

Art of Hosting

AND HARVESTING CONVERSATIONS THAT MATTER

Comeback Day!

Sat 17 October 2015 | 11-17h | Amsterdam

How can we continue to practice the Art of Hosting in our contexts?
What work we can do together that serves the needs of the world?

This is an opportunity to (re-)connect to fellow practitioners. It's a chance to see how others have been practising the methodologies of the Art of Hosting in diverse fields and a space for those who seek new collaborations to explore topics and issues related to one's own calling.

Who should come? This programme invites all previous participants of Art of Hosting & Participatory Leadership trainings in the Netherlands (since 2003!) or abroad who are in the Netherlands now. We bring together the English and Dutch-speaking communities and create an atmosphere where all are welcome across language, sectors, experience, and levels of practice.

What will the day look like?

- 11.00 World Café: Seeing the Landscape of Our Practice and Contexts
- 12.30 Lunch
- 13.30 Open Space: Discovering and Enabling Collaboration
- 16.00 Closing and Check out

How to register? The Comeback Day includes lunch, drinks, materials, use of an enabling space and a request to support these costs with a contribution of €10. The design and hosting of this day is being done on a volunteer basis by a small team of enthusiastic practitioners. Spaces are limited so please reserve your "ticket" here. We will send a confirmation to all registered participants, and looking forward to welcoming you!

Your convening and hosting team,

Laura Mohamed Sandra Tatiana Tijmen

Saturday 17 October 2015
at Impact Hub Amsterdam, Haarlemmerweg 8, 1014 BE in Westerpark, Amsterdam.
Tel: (020) 427 42 83